| Django 1.3. has a new logging module that will probably be better than the currently implemented homespun system. Look into migrating to the new system after upgrading to Django 1.3. |                        |                        |            |
