8/2/18: from Chris

just committed the ESS_DIVE re-sized logo from the original into github. I'm about to add them to the upcoming.xml file, and then will add in their CN_* attributes in the node registry before I approve the node. Since things went well in stage, we will also turn sync on in production and make sure things look good. All of this will be done behind the scenes so they don't show up in the Search UI yet. They only have 9901 objects in their system, so it shouldn't be much of a load on the CNs.
